2017-2018

Foreword

The Office of Institutional Research, Planning & Assessment is pleased to present the Boston College Fact Book, 2017-2018 the 45th edition of this publication.

This book is intended as a single, readily accessible, consistent source of information about the Boston College community, its resources, and its operations. It is a summary of institutional data gathered from many areas of the University, compiled to capture the 2016-2017 Fiscal and Academic Year, and the fall semester of the 2017-2018 Academic Year. Where appropriate, multiple years of data are provided for historical perspective. While not all-encompassing, the Fact Book does provide pertinent facts and figures valuable to administrators, faculty, staff, and students.

Sincere appreciation is extended to all contributors who offered their time and expertise to maintain the greatest possible accuracy and standardization of the data. Special thanks go to graduate student Kaitlyn Tuthill for her extensive contribution. A concerted effort is made to make this publication an increasingly more useful reference, at the same time enhancing your understanding of the scope and progress of the University. We welcome your comments and suggestions toward these goals.

This Fact Book, as well as those from previous years, is available in its entirety at www.bc.edu/factbook.

A Brief History of Boston College

Founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863 to serve the sons of Boston's Catholic immigrants, Boston College was the first institution of higher learning chartered in the City of Boston. On September 5, 1864 Boston College opened its doors to 22 students, providing a liberal arts curriculum with an emphasis on Greek and Latin classics, English, rhetoric, mathematics, philosophy, physics, chemistry, and religion, based on the Ratio studiorum (Plan of Studies) that had guided Jesuit schools throughout the world since 1599.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, Boston College outgrew its urban setting early in the 20th century. President Thomas I. Gasson, S.J., selected a new location in Chestnut Hill and in 1907 purchased four parcels of land known as the Lawrence Farm. The firm of Maginnis and Walsh won a design competition for the development of the new campus, and Boston College broke ground on June 19, 1909, for construction of a central Recitation Building, which would later be named Gasson Hall.

The Recitation Building opened in March 1913. The three other buildings that still shape the core of the campus—St. Mary's Hall, Devlin Hall, and Bapst Library—opened in 1917, 1924, and 1928, respectively.

Though founded as a university, Boston College did not fill out the dimensions of its charter until the 1920s. It established a Summer Session in 1924, followed by the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School and Evening College in 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work (now the School of Social Work) in 1936; and the College of Business Administration in 1938. The latter, along with its graduate school established in 1957, is now known as the Wallace E. Carroll School of Management. The schools of Nursing and Education, founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively, are now named as the William F. Connell School of Nursing and the Carolyn A. and Peter S. Lynch School of Education.

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences began doctoral programs in 1952. Today, doctoral degrees are offered by 13 Arts and Sciences departments. The schools of Education, Nursing, Management, Social Work, and Theology and Ministry also offer doctoral programs.

While Boston College conferred one bachelor's degree and 15 master's degrees on women in 1927 through its Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, it was not until 1970 that all of Boston College's undergraduate programs became coeducational. Today, female students comprise more than half of the University's enrollment.

In 1974, Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, located a mile-and-a-half from the Chestnut Hill Campus. With 15 buildings on 40 acres, the Newton Campus is now the site
